LANDS

SINGAPORE

Land in the hands of private owners in Singapore is held direct from the Crown, either by lease or grant. The terms of the leases vary. A great portion of the land on which the town stands is held on building-leases for 99 years. The terms of the leases in the country are, for the most part, 99 and 999 years. The present form of title at present is 99 years lease. This is prescribed by Ordinance 34 (Crown Lands).

The "permits" formerly issued in anticipation of survey have all been called in and grants substituted for them. Certain Crown Reserves are held under annual licences. The quit-rent reserved in leases for lands in the country issued before October 15th, 1883, is 30 cents an acre; that on leases issued subsequent to that date varies according to advantages of soil and situation, but is in no case less than 40 cents an acre. In all leases issued since October 15th, 1883, a condition is inserted under which the rent is readjustable every thirty years.

By Ordinance No. 69 (Foreshore) special powers are given to the Government with regard to leases of foreshore for periods not exceeding 100 years.

The following tabular statement shows the Revenue derived in Singapore from Land Rents in the years 1930, 1931, 1932 and 1933 respectively :—

Head of Revenue	1930	1931	1932	1933
	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.
Lands (including Labuan)	375,886 94	375,164 58	350,997 62	310,348 55

[111b]

PENANG

Land in Penang and Province Wellesley is held of the Crown, as in Singapore by grant or lease. The conditions of tenure vary according to the policy of the Government at the time the documents were issued. In Singapore eighteen and in Penang twenty different kinds of title are in the hands of the public. Unoccupied Crown Land is obtainable on Statutory Grants as in Singapore and also normally on 99 Year leases. Statutory Grants are also being substituted for permits, expired leases and agreements. Alienation of foreshore is subject to Ordinance No. 69.

The rates of rent reserved in old leases vary in different localities.

The following table gives a comparative statement of the Revenue derived from Land Rents in Penang in the years 1930, 1931, 1932 and 1933 respectively :—

LANDS

MALACCA

The tenure of a considerable portion of the land in Malacca Town has remained unchanged since the days of Dutch rule. Possession is evidenced in many of these cases by documents of title in Dutch.

The remainder of the land in the Town is chiefly held under leases of 99 years but there are a few leases of 999 years and a few Statutory Grants.

Occupied land in the country is held under Statutory Grants or 99 year leases from the Crown in the case of Estates but small holdings owned by Malays are held under Customary tenure as defined by the Malacca Lands Ordinance. There is special legislation, Ordinance No. 69, for the alienation of foreshore.

Land is obtainable without premium if held under customary tenure. Land to be held under Grant or Lease is generally sold by auction. The principal land Revenue consists of rents on Grants or Leases and of Mukim Assessment on land held under Customary tenure.

SETTLEMENT	Concessions and Licences		General information regarding the industry and the possibilities of development

Singapore ..	Timber Minor forest produce	There are no concessions of any importance, all timber and fire-wood are cut by licensed wood-cutters none of whom work on a large scale. Minor forest produce, including rubber, is also collected under licence or special permit	The area of reserved forest is 116,080 acres as shown in column 4 of the tabulated statement, an increase of 695 acres from that of 1932. The Singapore forest reserves, aggregating 16,242 acres are under the charge of the Commissioner of Lands, Singapore who was made a Conservator under the Forest ordinance from 1-1-32. It was then proposed to revoke the reserves, after disposing of any utilizable material in them, with the exception of Bukit Timah reserve which is 177 acres in extent. The question of revocation is now being reconsidered and it is possible that the forest organization in Singapore may be revived. The working scheme for the Malacca forests is still in operation and satisfactory progress has been made. An A.C.F. was in-charge of the Dindings as well as part of Perak; an A.C.F. was on full time in-charge of the Malacca forests; and the Penang and Province Wellesley forests were looked after by the A.C.F. in-charge of the Matang district of the State of Perak as a part time charge. The revenue on minor forest produce is chiefly derived from rotans, damar temak, nibong, nipah, Durian fruits, kajang and para rubber.

Singapore ...	Breams "White-bait"	* 16,776 tons	2,629,308	Number of Boats. 1,883	The Japanese employ Diesel engined boats as carriers between their fishing fleets and Singapore. Since 1929 a number of similar boats, but slightly smaller in size, were fitted with trolling booms for tunny fishery. Manned by from eight to ten men, these boats ventured out to distant grounds in search of the schools of tunnies and may remain at their fishing grounds for a period ranging between seven and twelve days and then return to port with their catches. Other local boats employed in fishing are undecked open boats varying from the canoe-like "kolek" about 16 feet long with a beam of 2 feet 9 inches, which are paddled and sailed to junk-like vessels of the "sampan" type about 26 feet long with a beam of 7 feet 6 inches and bearing three masts. These boats are used either in plying to and from fishing stakes and other traps or carry drift nets, seine nets, hauling nets, long lines baited and unbaited, or the hand line. The majority return to port within the 24 hours, but a few remain out at sea for several days up to, in the case of the Japanese fishing fleets, a month and longer. These latter have extended their operations to the Gulf of Siam on the East and the Mergui Archipelago on the West of the Malay Peninsula. Larger and longer power fish carriers have been constructed and used by the Japanese fishermen for this extended area. Originally about 56 feet, they now reach 76 feet in length. The drift nets are rarely longer than 200 fathoms or more than 6 fathoms deep. Only 23 Japanese boats use drift nets of 570 fathoms length. Floats made of either "pulai" or "tooi" wood are used. The nets mesh chiefly the local herring, Spanish mackerel, mackerel, Indian salmon (Polynemus), sardines, (Clupea) the dorab (Chirocentrus), sharks and tunny. The seine nets vary in detail, but are usually employed in surrounding a shoal of fish, which are frightened by splashing or other means, so as to gill themselves. They capture the shad (herring), the perch (lates calcarifer) or "cock up" and horse mackerel. The purse seine net is used by Hylam Chinese to catch the Indian mackerel (Scomber Kanagurta). The hauling nets are worked, with the exception of a few places where natives of India employ them, entirely by Chinese. They are paid out near the shore in the usual manner and for the size of the boat carrying them are very big measuring from wing to wing 100 fathoms. The catch consists of breams, mullets, sardines, perch, gizzard shad, black trevally, leather jackets, Jewfish catfish, prawns, cuttle-fish and crabs. Baited long lines (rawai umpan) are paid out from small sampan-like boats and canoe-like boats and capture chiefly the Indian salmon, snapper, rays, sharks, cat-fish and conger-eels. They are usually 200 fathoms long with snoods at intervals of 3 feet with anchors at each end and smaller ones at short intervals. Unbaited long lines are used from the bigger type of sailing, junk-like fishing boats and capture little else than rays and sharks. Their use is confined to the Chinese. There are a number of other kinds of nets of which the "Pukat Payang" is the most interesting, as being worked on the same principles as the Danish seine but by hand, the localising of the presence of fish being accomplished by listening under water. It is the solitary approach to anything like the trawl net in these seas. The material of lines and nets is either cotton or ramie, mostly ramie. Nets and lines are made locally but the majority come from China.

Malacca ...			$		The main substance used for proofing are cutch from mangrove bark steeped in water and in a few cases the white of egg mixed with wood oil. In 1922 the Japanese first introduced into Singapore a fishing net called "Muro Ami" in Japanese. This net is peculiar to the Japanese Fishermen of the Loo Choo Islands. It employs four sailing boats, two or more power fish carriers carrying ice and provisions to the fishing fleets which remain at sea from one and half to two months, and bringing back the catch preserved in ice. The number of men employed is 32 to 40. The net is set at low tide in the neighbourhood of coral reefs with the wings stretched towards the direction of the incoming tide and most of the men are engaged in swimming and driving the fish along the edge of the reef into the net. This is accomplished by the concerted movement of the swimmers, each carrying a weighted line with cloth streamer every few feet. These weighted lines with their steamers reach from the surface to near the bottom and are manœuvred through the area between and the seaward wing of the net in ever narrowing circles. The fish mainly caught is bream (Caesio) with a small percentage of other kinds of fish. The industry has been growing steadily, and in 1933, 9 "Muro Ami" nets, 35 sailing boats, 14 power fish carriers and 418 Japanese were employed. During the year 1933, 4,234 tons of fish were landed in Singapore as against 3,705 tons in 1932. Much of the wet fish which comes to the markets is caught in fixed engines of which the main type bear the local names of "Jermal", "Kelong", "Blat" and "Ambai". Wooden stakes varying in diameter from two inches to four inches are embedded in the sea-bed in water varying from 1—5 fathoms, either in one single line or in two lines V shaped and leading to one or more enclosures of poles with a mesh usually of rotan lining in the interior. In the case of "Ambai" the poles lead to a bag net. At certain times of the tide fish move along or between the lines of poles into the enclosures, where various contrivances are employed to bring the fish to the surface, so that they may be bailed out. The "Kelong" in Singapore fish between sunset and 10 A.M. next morning and during the hours of darkness use a kerosene flare to attract the fish. The fish mainly captured by stakes are the Spanish mackerel, the dorab, pomfret, mackerel, Jewfish, catfish, skates, leather jackets, anchovies, sardines, silver-breams and "white bait". In Singapore a large proportion of the fish marketed comes on ice by steamers from the neighbouring Dutch Islands being caught by fishermen living there and financed by Chinese dealers in Singapore. There are 273 "Kelong" round the island from which the greater part of the locally caught fish come. The next most important methods of capture in Singapore are the Chinese hauling nets, the drift nets, the "bubu" a basket trap made of either of bamboo or wire netting, catching sea-perch and especially the "ikan merah" (Lutianus) the fish favoured by the European community—and hand lines. The markets in Malacca are mostly supplied by fish caught on the Sumatran side. Sailing sampans take out a load of ice from Malacca and buy at sea, returning to the market with the purchase carefully packed in ice.

LABOUR WAGES AND COST OF LIVING

MOVEMENTS IN THE GENERAL COST OF LIVING, SINGAPORE, 1914-1933.

INDEX NUMBERS FOR 1933

Index Numbers up to the end of 1932 are shown in the Report "Average Prices, Declared Trade Values, Exchange, Currency and Cost of Living for the year 1932", (pages 43—47) which was published as a Supplement to the S.S. Government Gazette dated 4th August, 1933. For particulars for 1932, see S.S. Gazette Notification No. 904 dated 5th May, 1933. Particulars of the basic budgets are shown in the Report of the Temporary Allowances Commission published as S.S. Council Paper No. 44 of 1931.

2. These figures and the corresponding index numbers for 1933 are shown below and indicate the following changes in 1933 :—

Standard	1914	1932	1933	Percentage increase (+) or decrease (—) as compared with 1932
Asiatic	100	108.6	99.3	— 8.6 per cent
Eurasian	100	113.1	105.7	— 6.5 „ „
European	100	129.2	123.0	— 4.8 „ „

3. Figures for each month, under each budget, for 1933, are appended. The following is an analysis of changes during the year :—

- (i) Food:—For the first five months a downward tendency, and a rise from June to August due to an increase in the price of mutton, followed by a steady fall till the end of the year. Net change down.
- (ii) Liquors, Aerated Waters and Tobacco:—Duties remained unchanged. There was no change in prices except wines and tobacco, which fell slightly in January and remained constant throughout the rest of the year. Net change down.
- (iii) Servants:—Wages of servants as reported by the European staff of principal firms showed a decline and at the end of the year was 7 per cent. lower than at the end of 1932.
- (iv) Light and Water:—For Europeans no change. For Asiatic and Eurasian budgets, a decline due to a fall in the price of kerosene.
- (v) Transport:—

Tyres and Tubes:—The price rose in January, remained constant till June, dropped in July, rose in September and fell again in the last quarter of the year. Net change down.

Petrol:—Duty no change. Prices fell in June and remained the same till the end of the year. Net change down.

Lubricating Oil:—The price rose in January and fell below the rate at end 1932 in May and remained constant till the end of the year. Net change down.

Taxation:—No change.

Insurance:—No change.

Repairs:—No change.

Summary:—Slight fall in transport index number due to the fall in the price of tyres, tubes and petrol.

- (vi) Education:—In England, school fees remained unchanged. The cost of maintenance as shown by the Ministry of Labour Cost of Living Index fluctuated and at the end of the year was the same as at the end of 1932. In Singapore, there was no change in school fees; allowances were reduced in proportion to the fall in local food-index. Net change down for Asiatics and Eurasians: for Europeans no change.

- (vii) Clothing:—European, from May onwards there was a downward tendency. Asiatic and Eurasian budgets, drop of 2.8 per cent. over the year with a rise in December. Net change down.

- (viii) Clubs:—Entrance fee to one of the principal clubs was increased in December. No change in the monthly subscriptions. For miscellaneous expenditure, a decrease proportional to the decrease in paragraph (ii) above. Net change down.

- (ix) Rent:—A fall in Singapore Municipal Assessment values, based on rents for 1933, of 12.1 per cent. (Decreases elsewhere were as follows:—Penang 15.7 per cent., Malacca 10.3 per cent., Kuala Lumpur 24.0 per cent. and Johore 4.3 per cent.) This fall, in the absence of monthly figures, is taken as having been a regular one during the year.

4. Any suggestions for making these index numbers more representative of changes in the cost of living in Singapore would be appreciated.
